

SYLABUS

Course name	Philosophy – its traditions and contemporaneity
Name of the Institute	Academy of Sciences
Type of the doctoral studies	Doctoral studies, Doctoral School of Natural and Agricultural Sciences
Type of the study	Stationary
Type of the course	Mandatory
Year and semester	Winter semester 2020/2021
Scientific degree, name of the coordinator	Prof. dr hab. Piotr Mróz
Scientific degree, name of the lecturers	According to the schedule of classes
Form of classes, number of realized hours	Seminars, 30 hour per semester
Aim of the subject
Basic understanding of links between philosophy and other narrations. Philosophy will be presented in three basic modalities: 1. As source of human knowledge; 2. As the creative present of cognizence; 3. As certain proposal of a way of life (existence).
Requirements	Rudimentary knowledge of world's general culture and civilization.
Effects of education	Knowledge: A doctoral candidate, based on his knowledge, will be able to characterize the basic problems in history of philosophy and its contemporary views. Abilities: A PhD candidate is supposed to gain a deeper understanding of the both philosophy and of the status of philosophical knowledge along with its various ideas. Social competences: Learning to apply the aforementioned type of knowledge to current issues and problems.
Programme content
The course will embrace both history and development of philosophical ideas and notions as presented in exemplary texts if Plato, Aristotle, St. Thomas, Bacon, Descartes, Kant, Hegel, Kierkegaard, Popper, Kuhn, Feyerabend.
Teaching methods	Seminars and guided discussions along with presentations of one's own views.
Methods and form of assessment	Active participation.
Assessment methods and criteria	Oral examination, verification of the course's material.
The total student workload needed to achieve the intended results in hours and ECTS credits	Participation in seminars (30 hour). Individual preparation for classes and exam. (22 hours). 2 ECTS

Lecture language	English
Professional training within the subject	-
References	Basic literature: F. Copleston, History of Philosophy, T.1-9. Other sources texts will be added and presented during the course.
Sign of the lecturer
Sign of the head of scientific institution

Exam rules

1. The exam starts after completing the course.
2. The exam is conducted by a lecturer.
3. Assessment is based on the contribution to the prepared publication.

Percentage (%) od points available to obtain	Grade
	in words	as a number
91 – 100	very good (in Polish bdb)	5.0
81 – 90	more than good (in Polish p.db)	4.5
71 – 80	good (in Polish db)	4.0
61 – 70	more than satisfactory (in Polish p.dst)	3.5
55 – 60	satisfactory (in Polish dst)	3.0
0 – 54	unsatisfactory (in Polish ndst)	2.0

4. Unexcused absence on the exam results in receiving the grade "2.0" (insatisfactory).
5. The exam is passed after obtaining 55% of the points possible to receive from the contribution to the prepared publication.
6. Positive grade obtained on the exam cannot be upgraded.
7. In case of obtaining an unsatisfactory grade from the exam, a doctoral student will be entitled to only one re-examination during the academic year.
8. The re-examination grade is the average of the unsatisfactory grade from the first exam and the grade obtained from there-examination.
9. The re-examination is carried out according to the same principles as the first exam.
10. The person carrying out the exam is responsible for entering the grade in the index and doctoral examination card.